Specification

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

The following is a quotation of 37 CFR 1.71(a)-(c):

(a) The specification must include a written description of the invention or discovery and of the manner and process of making and using the same, and is required to be in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art or science to which the invention or discovery appertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same.

(b) The specification must set forth the precise invention for which a patent is solicited, in such manner as to distinguish it from other inventions and from what is old. It must describe completely a specific embodiment of the process, machine, manufacture, composition of matter or improvement invented, and must explain the mode of operation or principle whenever applicable. The best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention must be set forth.

(c) In the case of an improvement, the specification must particularly point out the part or parts of the process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter to which the improvement relates, and the description should be confined to the specific improvement and to such parts as necessarily cooperate with it or as may be necessary to a complete understanding or description of it.

2. The specification is objected to under 37 CFR 1.71, as the specification, as originally filed, does not provide support for the new matter on pages 3 and 4 of the amendment and Figure 5 filed on 9/9/2002. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: "glass, cardboard" on page 3 and "or more" on page 4 of the amendment because the specification as originally filed does not provide support for such phrases. Furthermore, the specification as originally filed does not provide support for the starting point of a continuous channel 20' in a spiral configuration centered about a knob 28' and the ending point near the edge of the organizer as shown in Figure 5. The starting point of the continuous channel may be located next to the knob and the ending point does not have to be near the edge of the organizer (see Figures 1-4). Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in reply in this office action.

Art Unit: 3728

3. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 USC 112, first paragraph, for the reasons set forth in the objection to the specification.

Drawings

4. The proposed drawing correction and/or the proposed substitute sheets of drawings, filed on 9/9/2002 have been disapproved because they introduce new matter into the drawings. 37 CFR 1.121(a)(6) states that no amendment may introduce new matter into the disclosure of an application. The original disclosure does not support the showing of the starting point of a continuous channel 20' in a spiral configuration centered about a knob 28' and the ending point near the edge of the organizer as shown in Figure 5. The starting point of the continuous channel may be located next to the knob and the ending point does not has to be near the edge of the organizer (see Figures 1-4).

Terminal Disclaimer

5. The terminal disclaimer filed on 9/9/2002 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of the U.S. Patent No. 6,334,530 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

The preamble in claims 1, 8 and 12 have been accorded no weight in accordance with the court's instruction in Kropa v. Robie, 187F.2d 150, 152, 88 USPQ 478 (CCPA 1951).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1, 2, 7-9 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Grusin (5,040,681). Grusin discloses a cover/organizer (18) comprising a body (32) having an upper surface and a lower surface, a knob (50) protruding upwardly from the upper surface, at least two compartments (34, one on each side of the knob) formed in the upper surface of the body with each compartment defined as an elongated channel on each side of the knob, and a recess in the lower surface of the body. The knob of Grusin is inherently capable of receiving at least one finger ring over the knob (Figures 1-5).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Frost (2,036,572). Frost discloses an organizer (16) comprising a body (1) having an upper surface and a lower surface, a knob (4) protruding upwardly from the upper surface, at least two compartments (10, 11, 14, 15) formed in the upper surface of the body with each compartment defined as an elongated channel around of the knob with separating walls (5, 8, 12) between the compartments, and a recess in the lower surface of the body. The knob of Frost is inherently capable of receiving at least one finger ring over the knob and the recess and the knob of Frost are capable of providing a means for a stackable configuration (Figures 1-2). To the extent that Frost fails to disclose a stackable configuration, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made in view of Frost to stack a plurality of organizer together in a package for selling purposes since Frost is clearly discloses a means such as the knob (4) with the recess of stackable configuration.

Art Unit: 3728

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to all pending claims have been considered but are deemed to be moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

The claims of the instant patent application are much broader then the claims in the issued patent.

The recesses on each side of the knob are considered separate compartments because they are separated by the knob.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 3728
